DISCHARGE AND DISCIPLINE

For the purposes of this clause, verbal warnings or directions shall not be interpreted as formal discipline.

14.02 JUST CAUSE

No Employee will be disciplined or discharged without just cause. In any grievance related to disciplinary action, the burden of proof of just cause lies with the Employer.

14.03 PROGRESSIVE DISCIPLINE

The Employer accepts and gives effect to the principle of progressive discipline by adopting the procedures set forth below in 14.04 (a) to (f).

14.04 DISCIPLINE PROCEDURE

(a) Notice of Meeting to Advise of Adverse Report

Prior to issuing an Adverse Report the Employer shall convene a meeting with the Employee to inform them that such an action is under consideration within 5 business days of the act or incident in concern to attempt to reach a resolution. The Employer shall provide a Notice of Meeting in writing at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the Employee and the Union, at which the Employee will be entitled to Union representation. Present at the meeting will be the respective supervisor of the Employee. At the meeting the Employer shall outline the complaint and subsequently provide an opportunity for the Employee to respond to the allegation.

If during the meeting the complaint made about the Employee is found to be without grounds or the Employer decides not to pursue action, the Employer shall immediately expunge from the Employee's personnel file the Notice of Meeting to Advise of Adverse Report (14.04 a) and any documentation related to the complaint.

(b) Adverse Report

An Adverse Report may be issued by the Employer in response to an issue related with an Employee's job tasks. Adverse Reports will include an accurate and sufficient description by the Employer of the basis for the Adverse Report, specific details on the standards of service expected, an explanation of how the Employee failed to meet such standards, how the Employee's action or inaction must be altered to attain such standards, and a defined timeline to be determined by Management by when such standards must be met. Such timeline will give the employee a reasonable opportunity to correct the problems referred to in the Adverse Report. If it is found that these problems are not corrected, the Employee may be subject to further Adverse Reports or a Warning. In any subsequent grievance procedures or arbitration, the Employer shall not assert new and unrelated grounds as the basis for the Adverse Report.

(c) Written Warning

If the complaint issued in 14.04 a or 14.04 b is not dismissed or otherwise resolved; or where the same behaviour recurs while the Adverse Report is still on file; or in response to an issue related with an Employee's job tasks; a Written Warning may be issued by the Employer within fifteen (15) business days. The fifteen (15) business days shall not coincide with vacation time or sick days. The Written Warning shall state that the disciplinary action may be imposed, in accordance with the procedures herein contained and/or, where the complaint concerns the standard of the employee's work, if the employee fails to bring his/her work up to a reasonable standard by a date to be determined by the Employer and stated in the Written Warning. Such date shall give the employee a reasonable opportunity to correct the problems referred to in the Written Warning. No act, omission, or failure to conform to a required standard shall appear in a Written Warning which did not appear in the Adverse Report. In any subsequent grievance procedures or arbitration, the Employer shall not assert new and unrelated grounds as the basis for the Written Warning.

(d) Response to Written Warning or Adverse Report

An Employee receiving a Written Warning or Adverse Report may respond in writing within ten (10) business days. Any response provided will become part of their personnel record, and such reply will be prepared outside of normal working hours. The response may request a meeting to take place between the Employee, the Union and the Employer to discuss the Written Warning or Adverse Report.

(e) Expiration of Written Warnings and Adverse Reports

All Written Warnings or Adverse Reports, and associated responses from the Employee, will be removed from the Employee's files after twenty-four (24) months, or earlier at the mutual agreement of the Employer, Employee and Union. An Employee has the right to access their personnel file upon request.

(f) Formal Discipline

Formal discipline means a suspension or termination. Formal Discipline shall only be imposed following the issuance of a Written Warning, and only in accordance with the terms defined in the Notice of Meeting in 14.04a and Written Warnings in 14.04c. Employees will be notified in writing of the grounds for formal discipline with a copy immediately provided to the Union.

The Employer may implement formal disciplinary action within fifteen (15) business days after issuing the Written Warning if the problem is not corrected, or, after two (2) Written Warnings have been issued for the same behaviour or complaint the Employer may implement formal disciplinary action as specified in the most recent written warning. The fifteen (15) business days allowance shall not coincide with vacation or sick time.

The Employer shall advise the Employee and the Union, in writing, of the formal disciplinary action to be taken. The Employer may also request a meeting with the Employee within five (5) business days after the written Notice of Formal Discipline has been issued. Such request must be made in writing to the Union and the Employee, and it must state that the Employee will be entitled to Union representation at such a meeting.

14.05 SCOPE OF DISCIPLINE

The Employer shall not discipline an employee for any reason other than those contained in the Notice as set out in the written Notice of Meeting in 14.04a.

Following reinstatement, the Employee will be compensated for all time lost in an amount equal to what their normal earnings and benefits would have been during the period of discharge or suspension; or by other arrangement mutually agreed to by the Union and the Employer, or as imposed by decision of an Arbitrator.

14.09 RESPONSIBILITY FOR CASH SHORTAGES

Employees who are responsible for the counting or handling of cash shall not be responsible for paying back any determined shortage out of their own pocket, unless otherwise mutually agreed to by Management and the Employee, or where prescribed by an Arbitrator. This clause shall not serve to limit Management's right to properly issue a Warning or Adverse Report or to take any other action as defined under Article 14.

14.10 CONFIDENTIALITY

The Employer and the Union agree that all correspondence and meetings relating to disciplinary procedures shall be kept strictly confidential between the Employee and the authorized Union Representative, the Employer's Representative, and the Shop Steward or any representative of the Union or Employer who is directly involved in the investigation and processing of the complaint.
